Videographer Intern

KPOP-TV's videographer internship program has been training professional-grade camera operators since it began six years ago. It is one of the only internship programs that gives its students a high level of exposure to industry-standard television equipment and also broadcasts your work in two of the U.S.A.'s largest television markets. Several of our interns have received awards during their time at our network, filmed interviews with famous directors, actors and singers, and received employment at television stations at the conclusion of their program.
